Fort Lauderdale, Ft. Lauderdale is sometimes called the Venice of America because of its many canals and waterways. You can take in one of Ft. Lauderdale cruises can easily get a taste of the area's nautical lifestyle by cruising the Intracoastal Waterway on an old-fashioned paddle wheeler. Other options include hopping aboard one of the popular water taxis or Venetian gondolas that glide down the historic New River that flows right through town. Before departing on our ship and enjoying the comforts this great cruise ship has to offer.

Willemstad-Curacao, This precious island has a good mixture of history and modernism which all guests can truly enjoy. The capital of Curaçao, Willemstad, is almost as old as a more famous Dutch settlement—it was founded in 1634, just 10 years after New Amsterdam, later called New York. The entire historic center of Willemstad has been recognized as a UNESCO World Heritage Site. While Willemstad's legendary days of yore can be explored at institutions like the Kura Hulanda and Curaçao Maritime Museum, this is a vibrant, living city too. You might want to stop at its floating market and a visit to a Curaçao distillery to taste the famous local liqueur. Natural wonders await as well: Some of the Caribbean's most stunning diving and snorkeling spots are here.

Kralendijk-Boniare, is one of the most laid-back landings around. Though there are some colorful streets to stroll nearby—remnants (mostly) of Bonaire's Dutch-colonial era—even the busiest lack the bustle of other Caribbean capitals. The comparative sleepiness helps maintain the island's chief attributes: legendarily pristine wilderness, both above and below the surface; mangroves full of baby fish; and salt flats full of flamingos. And reefs full of . . . everything.

Oranjestad-Aruba, Located off the coasts of Venezuela and Colombia, the windswept Dutch island of Aruba feels like another world. When you take a cruise to Aruba, you can relax in the shade of a swaying Divi Divi tree on a pristine beach or explore untamed coastal cliffs in an exotic landscape filled with cacti. Just one day on an Aruba cruise can lead to a lifetime full of stories.

Half Moon Cay-Bahamas, In a region renowned for tropical wonders, one island rises to the top—ours. We're not the only ones enamored with our slice of paradise—Half Moon Cay is the highest-rated Bahamas private island. It has won Porthole Cruise Magazine's Best Private Island award consecutively for 20 years. We've spent a quarter of a century perfecting the experience. When you feel the sugar-white sand on your toes or kayak its crystal lagoon, you'll understand why cruise travelers love Half Moon Cay, a highlight of our Bahamas cruises.
